Premier Hepburn Draws New Fire

PLOT CHARGED AS STRIKERS MEET OFFICIAL

Thompson Says G. M. C. Leaders and Minister "Conspiring To Break Walkout"—Martin Remains in Washington—Contracts Held Binding.

Oshawa, Ont., April 21. (AP)—Hutch Thompson, United Automobile Workers organizer in charge of Canadian General Motors strike, accused Premier Mitchell Hepburn and General Motors officials today of "conspiring to break the strike."

Thompson made this accusation when he heard that a committee of strikers had gone to Toronto this morning to meet the Premier, and Harry J. Carmichael, vice president and general manager of General Motors of Canada, Ltd.

The committee was the same one the Premier received yesterday afternoon, Thompson said.

The Premier, after talking to the committee, said he was confident a majority of the 3,700 strikers were ready to go back to work and abandon the John L. Lewis union.

Meanwhile, without explanation, Homer Martin, head of the C. I. O. affiliated United Automobile Workers of America, put off plans to come here and take command of strike strategy. He remained in Washington, attending a meeting of his union's executive board.

DIVERGENT VIEWS HEARD AT WASHINGTON TALK

(By The Associated Press.) Industrial executives and union leaders who participated in the labor relations conference called by Secretary Perkins were pledged today to observe collective bargaining contracts as "sacred and binding."

Although divergent views on a number of details precluded the drafting of formal conclusions yesterday, Secretary Perkins said the conference agreed that "labor's" role in collective bargaining should be fitted into the pattern of success for industry."

Informed observers said a proposal to give employers protection under the Wagner act and to increase the legal responsibilities of labor unions was discussed at the conference and soon would be echoed openly by business groups.

Both of the rival labor chieftains, John L. Lewis of the Committee for Industrial Organization, and William Green of the American Federation of Labor—were present.

Lewis' C. I. O. was still an issue in the strike of 3,700 employees of General Motors at Oshawa, Ont. The corporation has refused to recognize the United Automobile Workers of America, a C. I. O. affiliate, as collective bargaining agent for its workers.

TREASURY ON SEARCH FOR CHEAP MONEY

Most Favorable Terms Sought as Revised Budget Studied—Methods To Tighten Tax System in Boosting Future Company Considered.

Washington, April 21. (AP)—The submission of President Roosevelt's revised budget message started the Treasury today on a search for the cheapest terms to borrow money and for methods to tighten the tax system to bolster future income.

First, however, fiscal spokesmen predicted an already launched program of borrowing $50,000,000 a week would be continued until $300,000,000 has been obtained.

They said they would have to determine by June 15 whether to continue borrowing on short-term bills, or turn to longer-term bond issues for future funds. On that date about $200,000,000 of discounted bills issued in March will come due.

Plans Changed. Originally, it has been expected these bills would be paid out of tax receipts for the second quarter of the year, but authorities said today this would be prevented because revenues were not coming up to expectations.

The same problem will arise on Sept. 15, they believe, when the Government will have to pay back the money it is now borrowing in $50,000,000 weekly chunks.

The unsettled state of the market for Government bonds in recent weeks apparently led to Secretary Morgenthau's decision to issue short-term bills to tide the Treasury over for the rest of this fiscal year.

President Roosevelt's message yesterday showed that the net deficit, estimated last January at $2,245,128,000, would be increased by $300,000,000 through failure of tax collections to match up with forecasts.

Additional borrowing before July 1 is expected to push the public debt to a new peak of $20,355,000,000—$1,557,000,000 over last July 1.

Huge Debt Due. In the fiscal year beginning July 1, the Treasury must prepare to pay $2,468,000,000 coming due, in addition to taking care of the projected new borrowings of $418,000,000 to make up a deficit.

Treasury officials said in decision on how to obtain this latter sum would be made for several months. The President said in his budget message he would "use every means at my command to eliminate this deficit."

Should the Treasury decide additional taxes are needed, the problem of which taxpayers should bear the extra load will confront it.

U. S. ARMAMENT BILL STUDIED

PERCENTAGE OF INCOME
SPENT FOR DEFENSE
AT LOW LEVEL

Washington, April 21. (AP)—A survey by American military authorities disclosed today the United States is spending a much smaller percentage of its income for national defense than any other world power.

Of the 24 nations maintaining sizeable armaments and navies, the report showed, only Hungary spends a smaller proportion of its budget on armaments.

President Roosevelt referred in his budget message yesterday to the relatively low cost of American defense, and declared nations in an armaments race were headed directly toward bankruptcy.

He said at a press conference later, however, that a distinction should be drawn between nations arming for offense and those reluctantly doing so for defense.

His request for government economy, he added, did not mean American defense funds should be curtailed. He estimated $952,000,000 or about 13 per cent of the budget will be needed for the army and navy in the next fiscal year.

Great Britain earmarked 21.8 per cent of its total budget for military and naval expenditures in 1937.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer announced yesterday income tax increases to pay for the British rearmament bill, estimated at $7,500,000,000.

Germany has declined to disclose its expenditures for national defense for several years.

The American survey showed, on the basis of the latest comparative statistics, that Japan spends the largest amount—30.9 per cent of its total budget—on national defense.

France spends 27.5 per cent; Italy, 31.6 per cent; Soviet Russia, 19.1 per cent, and Poland 42.4 per cent.

Harlem's Father Divine To Face Court Action in Attack on White Man in Riot at 'Kingdom' Service

New York, April 21. (AP)—A ship-pated little Negro, known to thousands of his followers simply as "God," advised police through an attorney today he was ready to submit to arrest on a charge of felonious assault.

Within 24 hours, Arthur A. Madison, Harlem lawyer, said, Father Divine, patron saint of a "heaven" of his own creation and dozens of "extension heavens," will surrender for questioning concerning the beating and stabbing administered Harry Green, a white contractor of Wherry-hawken, N. J., yesterday.

The haven sought by the Negro, in whose name thousands of acres of upstate farm land has been bought with satchels full of currency, was a distant "heaven." From there he telephoned the attorney.

MADRID TAKES REBEL ARTILLERY AS DUTCH HEAP UP OFFICERS SLAIN

(By The Associated Press.)

Madrid took its hardest battering of the civil war today, the tenth successive day of heavy insurgent shelling.

At least 200 shells fell in the city before 10 a. m. (5 a. m., E.S.T.). Most of them were small, but there were tragic accounts of death and destruction. Yet the populace, hardened by 5½ months of siege, took the bombardment with a fatalistic shrug.

A report that Dutch officials aboard the Dutch steamer Andra had been executed before insurgents sunk the vessel in the Bay of Biscay April 6 stirred strong resentment in the Netherlands.

The Amsterdam newspaper De Telegraaf, which printed the report—not officially confirmed—said the insurgents found three Spanish Government officials on the ship, who had purchased munitions abroad. They were executed along with "all Dutch officials of the Andra," the newspaper stated.

Spanish Government troops struck toward the Teruel-Zaragoza highway in eastern Spain after driving insurgents, panic-stricken, from the town of Celadas.

The Government column's commanders hoped to sever the road and cut off the insurgents in Teruel from their comrades to the north.

On the Bay of Biscay Coast, General Emilio Mola's northern insurgent force began a new thrust at Bilbao, capital of the autonomous Basque provinces.

Between them and the port was the Government-held city of Durango.

Uncensored reports reaching the Valencia-Spanish border indicated the Valencia Government was getting the upper hand over troublesome anarchist elements.

In his own "capital," Salamanca, insurgent General Francisco Franco began organizing his proposed authoritarian state, with himself at the head.

NEW ELECTION UNNECESSARY FOR SCHOOL TRUSTEES

Austin, April 21. (AP)—The Attorney General's Department has advised L. A. Woods, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, that despite the loss of certain tally sheets and ballot boxes in a school trustees election in Wilbarger County, it would not be necessary to hold the election again.

Assistant Attorney General Joe Alsup also ruled in response to Woods' request for an opinion that it would not be necessary for the County Board of School Trustees to appoint trustees of the various districts.

Woods informed the Department the tally sheets and some ballot boxes containing ballots had been removed from the County Clerk's office in every district where the election was held April 15 with the exception of the Harrold Independent District.

The Commissioners Court declined to accept tally sheets from eight of the districts which were available from the County Superintendent and declared results only of the Harrold election.

Alsup said the law provided for making reports of the returns to the County Judge and the County Clerk and for the keeping of one by the presiding officer of the election. He said the law did not allow opening the ballot boxes for re-counting, but since the returns were made in triplicate and all certified to, any one might be used for canvassing by the Commissioners Court in the absence of fraud, which would be a fact question to be determined by the court.

Alsup will make a ruling to county officials based on that of the Attorney General's Department. He was out of the city today.

WILBARGER OFFICIALS AWAIT REPORT FROM L. A. WOODS

Wilbarger County officials Wednesday refused to comment on an Associated Press report from Austin giving an opinion of the Attorney General's Department on loss of returns in school districts of the county. No action will be taken pending arrival of the decision from the office of State Superintendent L. A. Woods.

It was pointed out by one official that the ruling announced Wednesday did not cover a situation where no ballots were available.

TEXAS HONORS SAM HOUSTON

HIGHEST MEMORIAL SHAFT
DEDICATED TO ARMY
AT SAN JACINTO

Houston, April 21. (AP)—Texas today honored Sam Houston and his men, who made themselves heroes 11 years ago by overwhelming Iron-banded General Santa Anna at San Jacinto.

State-wide observance of the holiday was highlighted in ceremonies at San Jacinto battlefield, 20 miles from here, and in San Antonio where its week-long fiesta season neared a climax.

From Washington Jesse H. Jones, RFC chairman, came to lay the cornerstone of the highest memorial shaft in the Nation, dedicated simply to the hard-fought army which clinched for Texas its freedom from Mexico.

A special train waited at Austin to carry about 100 legislators and other State officials to the ceremony, which 15,000 persons were expected to watch.

When the memorial is finished it will tower 564 feet—higher than the Washington monument. Federal and State funds were used for its construction.

San Antonio's observance of the day carried an industrial flavor. A traditional trades' day parade in which the city's industrial and commercial enterprises enter floats, topped the program. A flower show and track meet were other events. The climax of fiesta week, itself an observance of San Jacinto, will come Friday in the Battle of Flowers parade.

Morgan served as deputy governor of the Farm Credit Administration from 1935 to 1936 and became treasurer of the Democratic National Committee in July of the latter year.

TWO STUDENTS KILLED IN STORM AT SAN ANTONIO

(By The Associated Press.)

Stormy Spring weather, mixed death and hope in Texas last night. Two San Antonio high school seniors died from contact with a live wire torn from a pole by a 40-mile wind during a storm which piled up half an inch of rain in an hour.

The victims were Brandt Badger, 16, a junior, and Glenn Cochran, 17, a senior in Thomas Jefferson High School. Firemen believed the younger boy died instantly as he and Cochran tried to push a water-stalled automobile. Cochran died in a hospital shortly after the accident.

A companion who stayed in the car while the other two pushed said he saw Cochran trying to pull the prostrate Badger from the charged wire. The 2,300-volt cable held him fast until firemen wrenched it from him with an insulated hook.

TEXAN LEADS IN MOVE FOR ADDED FUNDS

Administration Chieftains Confident President's Plea for Economy Will Be Followed In Blocking All Efforts To Change Requested Amount.

Washington, April 21. (AP)—Democratic leaders, heading President Roosevelt's plea for economy, resisted efforts today of two groups of Representatives to boost next year's relief funds far above his recommendation of $1,300,000,000.

Representative Maverick, Democrat, Texas, invited more than a score of his colleagues to discuss the possibility of increasing the appropriation by $900,000,000. Representative Boileau, Progressive, Wisconsin, said the House "liberal bloc" would try to raise it to $2,000,000,000.

Defense Ready. Administration chieftains, besides forecasting defeat for these proposals, expressed certainty they could stop efforts to cut Mr. Roosevelt's request by a third.

Speaker Bankhead indicated the leaders were ready to put on the pressure to block all bills—except those of the utmost importance—which would authorize extra appropriations.

The President, furthermore, said a measure probably would be offered to let him withhold from Federal departments appropriations which he considered unnecessary.

He wanted to keep the relief fund at $1,300,000,000, however, on the ground that a smaller amount would mislead the Nation and necessitate a later request for additional funds.

The Works Progress Administration said today unemployment would continue to be a serious problem in coming months and that even a high tide of prosperity could not cut the toll of jobless below 1,000,000. A report by Deputy Administrator Aubrey Williams changing productivity and additions to the labor supply. He urged an "integrated and perfected program of insurance, public work and public assistance."

Forecast Studied. "Acceptance or even an optimistic forecast of 6,500,000 to 7,500,000 unemployed in 1937 presupposes nearly as great a need for a Federal works program as in 1936," Williams said.

Employment on the works program, the report showed, dropped from a peak of 3,539,000 in March, 1936, to 2,884,000 on last Feb. 26. The average WPA monthly expenditure declined from $172,000,000 for March, 1936, to $148,000,000 for January, 1937.

All Vernon business men were urged by Mr. Russell to attend the program and to leave early enough to have some time to meet Rock Crossing residents before the program, scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock, is started. A store to store canvases will be made Friday by members of the committee, Mr. Russell said. (An attempt to have each Vernon firm send a representative.)

Members of the committee in charge of Vernon's part of the Rock Crossing program are: C. Fred Russell, chairman; J. L. Shovers and T. E. Davis of the Senior Chamber and Jimmie Carrington of the Junior Chamber.

Organized Business Campaign Aimed At Giving Protection to Employers Under Wagner Act Is Foreshadowed

Washington, April 21. (AP)—Secretary Perkins' capital-labor conference foreshadowed an organized business campaign, informed persons said today, to impose restrictions on unions and to give employers protection under the Wagner act.

In addition, these persons asserted, officers of Secretary Perkins' business advisers council recently submitted to President Roosevelt confidential recommendations that labor's legal responsibilities be increased.

These proposals were expected to come openly from two groups: the board of the National Manufacturers' Association, meeting today in New York, and the United States Chamber of Commerce, convening here next week.

Administration chiefs indicated any congressional consideration probably would be deferred until wage and hours legislation is discussed.

Participants in the labor relations conference at the Labor Department yesterday said questions raised by business spokesmen showed their views.

Both these representatives and union leaders raised such objections.

Simple Medical Aid To Prevent Drownings Given

St. Louis, April 21. (AP)—A medical treatment capable of preventing hundreds of deaths from drowning during the coming winter was suggested today by Dr. Bayard T. Horton of Rochester, Minn.

Addressing the American College of physicians Dr. Horton declared that many drownings result from a hypersensitivity to cold water, similar to the allergic reaction of asthma or hay fever, which causes a total collapse of many individuals.

Recent studies have revealed 25 persons who suffered total collapse after swimming, 10 of whom had to be rescued, Dr. Horton said. "Hypersensitivity to cold constitutes a grave menace to the unwary swimmer who has this malady, and yet the danger can be eliminated by adequate treatment."

Testing to determine whether a person has the disease is a simple matter of immersing one hand in ice water for five minutes, Dr. Horton declared, and "if the hand swells after it has been removed from the water, the indication is that the patient is hypersensitive to cold."

Most persons can be "desensitized" to cold, just as many asthma and hay fever patients can be accustomed to pollen, by having them immerse one hand in ice water for three or four weeks, Dr. Horton declared.

Moonlight and Blossoms

Rare as the proverbial day in June is the springtime beauty of the nation's Capitol shimmering in the moonlight and framed by the fairy-like tracery of blossom laden branches of the Japanese cherry trees. The sight pictured above draws thousands to Washington, D. C., each year.

WILDCAT WELL AT TYLER PRESENTS NEW PROBLEM

Tyler, Texas, April 21. (AP)—The wildest well of Tide Water Associated-Seaboard and Humble No. 1 MacElreath and Suggett, near Opelika, Henderson County, presents a problem to operators. While drilling crews work frantically to hold down pressure by pumping mud into the hole in order to keep the well from blowing out, Athens, Brown-horn, Marchionni and Opelika are enjoying a real oil boom. Lease prices were high.

The mud pumping process has been continued at the well since the showing of oil and gas last Friday night. The well now presents a problem to drillers because of the tremendous pressure at the bottom. It was understood the pipe had not been pulled very far, however, as drillers were afraid to do so. They are afraid to use live oil to lubricate the pipe for fear that might cause the well to blow out.

There is possibility that the hole may have to be plugged and another well drilled.

Each time the drillers attempt to stop pumping mud into the hole, the well gives evidences of blowing out, and each time some oil comes out.

ECLIPSE ON FAR DISTANT
STAR DRAWS ASTRONOMERS

Cambridge, Mass., April 21. (AP)—An eclipse seven quadrillion miles distant, 75 million times as far away as the sun, was studied today by astronomers who hoped to gain secrets of the structure of the gaseous atmosphere of the stars.

Harvard University astronomers revealed that observers throughout the world are interested in the eclipse in which a blue-white star passes behind a red giant star. The pair constitute what is known as a double star, named Zeta Aurigae.

Each of the stars is itself a sun, bigger and heavier than our own sun, Harvard astronomers explained, but the red giant has a diameter 10 times as large as its smaller blue-white companion.

So close together are they, and so far away, that they appear to be a single star even in the most powerful telescopes. Only the periodic rise and fall in the brightness of the light reveals the story of the recurring eclipses.

Chicago, April 21. (AP)—A 19-year-old boy with a new red bicycle was sought by police Tuesday as the slayer of Peter Valance, 39, who had been kidnapped the youth for six days in front of his automobile.

After getting ahead, the automobile stopped and Valance walked back to meet the cyclist. He upbraided him for blocking his path. During an argument the boy drew a still-to-be and stabbed Valance near the heart. Then he climbed back on his bicycle and pedaled away.

"BIG BROWN EYES"

Mother Located By Troup Woman To End Long Hunt

Troup, April 21. (AP)—A triumph for woman's intuition was recorded here today when Mrs. Willie Mae Edwards, after years of searching, received a letter from her mother whom she believed dead.

Since she was adopted at the age of two out of the Baptist Orphan Home at Evergreen, Ala., by Mr. and Mrs. George Hardwick of that city, Mrs. Edwards had been under the impression a sister, Mrs. Della Lilly of Houston, Texas, was her only living relative—but still there was a doubt and she persisted in searching for her people.

Last summer while idly glancing over a paper, she noticed the picture of a Texas Centennial visitor, Mrs. Anna L. Travis, a distant relative of the Travis of Alamo fame. Mrs. Travis, significantly, was from Evergreen and acting purely upon a hunch, Mrs. Edwards wrote her and requested aid in locating the missing ones.

Mrs. Travis agreed and Mrs. Edwards advanced her meager information—her mother's first name had been Mary, her grandmother's surname, Brown.

Today she is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. Mary Bailey of Evergreen. "I have wondered so long what became of you and Dell," the letter read, "I wondered if you were alive... You must come to me."

As Mrs. Edwards prepares to visit her mother, she has the joy of knowing they will meet for the first time an own brother, an own sister and two half-sisters whom she never knew existed.

"ORCHESTRAL AND CHAMBER MUSIC" IS CLUB'S THEME

A program on the development of chamber music and orchestral music was given Tuesday evening for the Mozart Club at the home of Miss Lois Copeland.

Chamber music is the purest and most exacting form of music, Miss Copeland told the group in discussing the development of that type. Mozart, Haydn, Brahms, and Beethoven especially contributed to the development of chamber music, she said. Miss Frances Murchison traced the development of orchestral music through the classic and modern periods. Its chief contributors named included Handel, Bach, Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven and Caesar Franck.

Illustrative music was given on the program by J. J. Slaughterhouse, who played "Souspirs" (Schubert), as a clarinet solo, accompanied at the piano by Frank C. Coulter, and by Mr. Coulter, who gave two piano selections. They were "Allegro in E Flat," (Drdla), and "Jardin Sous la Pluie," (Debussy). Of special interest to Vernon people was the marriage Sunday morning of Miss Una Scanlan of Brownsville to Edward Nolen Backus, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Backus of Brownsville. The rites were performed in Brownsville by Rev. Penrose W. Hirst, rector of the Church of the Advent, at that church. Only relatives of the couple were present.

The bride, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Scanlan of Brownsville, was charming in a frock and hat of mulberry, which she wore with gray accessories. Her corsage was fashioned of lilies of the valley and sweetheart roses. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Jane Scanlan, who wore a frock of yellow and navy blue, and whose corsage was also of sweetheart roses.

Attendant to Mr. Backus was Hal Goodwyn of Brownsville.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple left on a wedding trip, and upon their return they will make their home in Brownsville.

Mrs. Backus is a member of a pioneer family and is well known in Brownsville and in the Rio Grande Valley. The groom was graduated from Vernon High School and subsequently attended the University of Oklahoma at Norman, Okla., and Washington, and Lee University at Lexington, Va. He received his bachelor's degree at Washington and Lee, where he was made a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity. After teaching in Vernon for two and a half years, Mr. Backus joined the Army and received his training at Randolph Field and Kelly Field, San Antonio, and at Barksdale Field, Shreveport, La. At present he is a co-pilot for Pan-American Airways and flies a regular schedule from Brownsville through Mexico City to Guatemala, Panama, and other Central American points.

Weir Accepts Schreiner Institute Coaching Offer

VERNON POST IS VACATED

LION COACH SINCE 1928
BEGINS NEW DUTIES
AFTER TERM HERE

The appointment of W. C. Weir, Vernon High School coach since 1928, as head coach and athletic director at Schreiner Institute, Kerrville, was announced today by Dr. J. J. Delaney, president of the institution. Weir announced acceptance of the position after being released by the Board of Trustees from a contract calling for his services in 1937-38 at Vernon High School. He will fulfill his contract for the 1936-37 school term here before reporting to Schreiner.

Weir succeeded H. C. (Bully) Gilstrap, who began duties several weeks ago as an assistant coach under Dana X. Bible at the University of Texas. Gilstrap was coach of the Schreiner Mountaineers 12 years.

In an executive session last week in which many coaches were considered for the post vacated by Gilstrap, Schreiner officials selected Weir as their first choice and invited him to a conference at Kerrville Saturday. The Vernon coach met with the officials Saturday and agreed to accept the position if released from his contract with Vernon High School. Dr. Delaney announced the appointment after Weir had notified him of his release here.

"I regret to leave Vernon," said Weir, "but the Schreiner offer included a substantial increase in salary and a degree of permanency which I considered too good a promotion to turn down."

In his first season with the Mountaineer football team, a member of the Texas Junior College Conference, the new coach will have only a few letters available for competition. The schedule next fall includes games with the following colleges: McMurry, San Houston Teachers, San Marcos Teachers, Sul Ross Teachers, Texas A. & L. John Tarleton, Kilgore and Lamar (Resumption). In the absence of a head coach at this time, the Mountaineers will not have the benefit of spring training.

Coach Since 1928.

Weir has been associated with the coaching profession since graduating from Texas A. & M. College in 1923. He lettered four years in football, three in track and served one season as captain in each of these sports at A. & M. The team he led as captain were Southwest Conference champions.

Leaving A. & M., he accepted a position as coach and teacher at Itasca High School. After serving there four years, he accepted a similar potion at Palestine High School in 1927.

A year later he came to Vernon and has since been football coach and athletic director here. He has also assisted in coaching other athletic teams and was head basketball coach a few seasons. In addition to athletic duties, he has served as instructor in mathematics.

Teams Make Good Record.

Most of the Vernon football teams coached by Weir have ranked among the strongest in Northwest Texas.

His Lions were district champions in 1932 and co-champions with Quanah in 1934. Although the Lions held all Texas opponents scoreless in 1931, Quanah won the title on 20-13, Quanah won the title on 20-13, Quanah won the title on 20-13.

In his first three seasons here, Vernon finished each season in the upper division of the final standings in the district which then included Amarillo, Lubbock, Pampa, Plainview, Childress, Quanah, Electra and Wichita Falls. Teams in this district now are Olney, Graham, Wichita Falls, Electra, Quanah, Childress and Vernon.

In contests with their traditional rivals, the Wichita Falls Coyotes, Weir-coached Lions have won six out of nine games.

"North of the Rio Grande" is the definite title for Paramount's next in the Hopalong Cassidy series, which Harry Sherman is producing.

LIONS MEET EXES TONIGHT

POSTPONED GAME CALLED AT 8 O'CLOCK AT CITY PARK

Vernon Lions and Ex-Lions prepared to play their annual football game after a 24-hour postponement due to inclement weather prevailing yesterday. Unless yesterday's downpour is repeated today the Lions and "Exes" will take their places on the City Park gridiron at 8 o'clock tonight for the annual spring training battle.

The Lions were idle yesterday afternoon after postponement of the game was announced. Monday they had gone through a light workout. Last of the Spring season.

Tonight's game will be the last in which a Vernon Lion team will be directed by Coach Heinie Weir, who will be coach next fall at Schreiner Institute, Kerrville.

Assisting in directing the Lion squad tonight will be Burnett Cox while Gilmore and Wilson Herring will be mentors for the "Exes."

LOU LITTLE AND ALUMNI DISCUSS FOOTBALL TEAM

New York, 21. (AP)—Lou Little, the well-dressed man, thinks his Columbia Lions will be "about the same as last year" this fall. But Columbia's rabid football alumni register a dissenting opinion.

There's nothing unusual about the difference of opinion. Lou is Gil Little's successor as football's best torch singer.

Say the alumni, already warming up for next fall with sideline quarterbacking at Spring practice sessions: "Of course we'll be good. Look at Luckman, best back in the east, a great passer and runner. The line is OK. You can't beat that charge from a four point stance, and we've got the ends. Siegel is a honky and did you ever see Schulze punt?"

"Our competition should be better," says Professor Little. "Cornell is moving ahead and Syracuse with a new coach should start a comeback. The east generally should have its share of good football teams."

BEAUMONT AND HOUSTON WIN TEXAS LOOP GAMES

(By the Associated Press)

Beaumont, Houston and the rain were Texas League victors yesterday.

A lank right-hander, Monk Corbett, demonstrated his superiority over the collective left-handed efforts of three San Antonio pitchers as Beaumont downed the Missions, 11 to 2. Corbett granted six hits while Burrows, Wiltse, and Mills were yielding 15 to the Exponents.

Sam Hershman, Mission catcher, had a luckless afternoon in which he committed three of the four San Antonio errors.

The pitchers also fared badly when Houston overwhelmed Galveston, 19 to 3. The Buff batters slugged out 17 hits off Armbrust and Hansen.

Allyn Stout, Houston right-hander, backed up his powerfully-hitting mates with a seven-hit performance. The Dallas, Tulsa, Fort Worth-Oklahoma City games, scheduled in the Oklahoma cities, were rained out.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By the Associated Press)

Gerald Walker, Detroit—Hit homer, triple, double, single as Tigers topped Cleveland, 4-3.

Cy Blanton, pitched Pittsburgh Pirates to 5-0 win over Chicago Cubs, allowing five hits.

Hal Schumacher outpitched Van Mungo to give Giants 4-3 victory over Brooklyn.

Al Simmons, Senators, collected homer and two singles as Washington Senators shaded New York Yankees, 3-2.

Bob Johnson, Athletics, hit his second homer in two days and two singles although team bowed to Red Sox, 11-5.

VERNON AMATEURS PAIRED MAY 3 IN LUBBOCK FIGHTS; LUTTRELL QUILTS TEAM HERE

Vernon amateur boxers will meet a Lubbock boxing team May 3 at Lubbock, Fred Gordon, manager and bantamweight on the Vernon club, announced today.

Famed throughout West Texas, the rugged Lubbock leather pushers will provide stiff competition for the Vernon ringmen who recently took top honors in the Northwest Texas A. A. U. Boxing Show at Wichita Falls.

Best known of the Lubbock fighters are Louis Terrell, flyweight, and Babe Ritchie, heavyweight, both State Golden Gloves champions this year.

Missing from the Vernon lineup will be Edd Luttrell, middleweight, who rang up a smashing first-round victory in the Wichita Falls meet and who is a former Texas A. A. U. champion. Lack of time for proper training was given by Luttrell as the reason for his decision to withdraw from the ring.

Dewitt Sylvester will probably represent Vernon in the flyweight class while Fred Gordon, one of the more rugged of the State's bantamweights, will fill the 115-pound slot. Frank Long, who made his ring debut at the North Texas A. A. U. meet, losing a decision but exhibiting worlds of promise, will probably be Vernon's featherweight representative.

Jack Blanton will represent Vernon in the welterweight class and although his opponent is unknown here will be a favorite.

In the middleweight or light heavyweight classes Chesney Lockard will be a contestant while Roy Jones will probably fight as a light heavyweight or heavyweight.

U. S. ARMY IS READY FOR ATTACK BY U. S. NAVY

Honolulu, April 21. (AP)—The United States Army was ready Tuesday to save Honolulu from the United States Navy.

At any time now—some Army officers have a hunch it will be Friday—the fleet will "attack" Oahu Island, on which Honolulu is situated, and attempt to capture Pearl Harbor.

But soldiers of the Hawaiian Department aided by the Hawaiian naval units, are ready to greet the foe with a withering blast of blank shells.

Engaged in its annual maneuvers, one of the fleet's problems is the theoretical conquest of the islands, and the Pearl Harbor naval base is the vital spot at which to strike.

PARISIAN THEATER STRIKE SETTLED AT CONFERENCE

Paris, April 21. (AP)—A strike of employees in more than 200 Paris motion picture, vaudeville and legitimate theaters was settled Tuesday after an all-night conference in the office of Premier Leon Blum.

The employees accepted a proposal for readjustment of salaries. Union leaders said the strike was called because the 40-hour week schedule in motion picture theaters had resulted in heavy salary losses for workers.

Wants Old Number.

Chicago, April 21. (AP)—Billy Herman, the Cubs star second baseman, wants his old number back. Herman has worn number 2 each season since 1922. A change in the numbering system to give Manager Charlie Grimm, long wearer of 7, number 1, and 2 to Captain Gabby Hartnett, however, gave Herman number 4. His objection is that the last three wearers of number 4, Babe Herman, Chuck Klein and Ethel Allen, were sold or traded.

Salvatore Wins.

Los Angeles, April 21. (AP)—Absorbing bruising punishment but finishing with a relentless body attack, George Salvatore, veteran Houston, Texas, welterweight, outpointed young Prier Jackson, Los Angeles, at the Olympic auditorium last night. Referee Benny Whitman's decision raised a rumpus of divided opinion, and many ring-siders believed Jackson commanded a comfortable margin.

Helen Stephens To Run.

St. Louis, April 21. (AP)—Helen Stephens, the Fulton, Mo., girl who holds the world's 100-meter championship, probably will be the outstanding competitor in the Women's National A. A. U. track meet here Friday night. Miss Stephens, who raced the 100-meter distance in 11.4 seconds at the 1936 Olympics in Berlin, will enter the 50-meter dash and the shot put.

Need A Racer?

Indianapolis, April 21. (AP)—Lou Meyer can't find anyone who wants the speedster with which he won the 500-mile speedway race here last May. Meyer, already signed to drive one of three cars entered in this year's race by Mike Boyle of Chicago, just arrived from the west and brought his 1936 race winning automobile. It's for sale, but he can't find a buyer.

Weir Smiles at BAYLOR SETS RECORDS

Coyote Scores

One hundred and twenty-one points scored by the Vernon Lions in nine football games have probably brought more satisfaction to "Heinie" Weir, stocky Lion mentor for the past nine years, than all other points scored during this period by Vernon High eleven. The 121 points were scored in games against the Wichita Falls Coyotes. During the same period the Coyotes scored 95 points. Approximately 1,800 students are enrolled in the Wichita Falls high school, approximately 450 in Vernon High. In six of their nine games with the Coyotes since Coach Weir came to Vernon, the Lions have come out on the long end of the final score.

Bears Break Records.

Southwest conference baseball records galore were toppled in the recent Baylor-Rice game which ended with the Bears on the long end of a 32-13 score. The combined total of 45 runs is the largest in the history of the conference. Baylor's 16 runs in the first inning set a record for scoring in a single inning. The 22 Bears who came to the plate in that inning set a new mark for number of batters in a single inning. Three pitchers used by Rice in that frame, each getting credit for a single out, were more than had ever been previously used by one team in one inning. A total of 72 Bears' came to the plate in their eight innings on the offensive to set another record although the Baptists were credited with only 50 official times at bat. Five Baylor men stole a total of nine bases to hang up the final record for the so-called baseball game.

Frogs Looking Ahead.

Reports from the campus of Texas Christian University have it that L. D. (Little Dutch) Meyer will sign a Chicago Cub contract as soon as he receives his diploma May 31 and that Sam Baugh will get a $7,000 professional football offer which will lure him from his 1937-38 job as Frogs' freshman coach. Both Meyer and Baugh were teammates of B. O. Curran, Plainview school principal, on a Rule, Texas, baseball team several years ago. Meyer is now hitting at a .483 clip in Southwest Conference competition.

Amateur Status Retained.

The report of the Southwest Conference's committee on "tuition differential" is scheduled to come in for a lot of discussion when May 14-15 at Austin. Conference President E. W. McDiarmid of T. C. U. explains the "tuition differential" question as follows: "Under present conference regulations, jobs for athletes can pay only a maximum sum each month. In some member schools, this maximum pays all of the boy's expenses and leaves a small amount for incidentals. In other schools (Baylor, S. M. U. and T. C. U.), because of the necessary tuition charge, this maximum will not cover quite all of the necessary expenses." President McDiarmid points out that the three schools are eager to have their allowable maximum raised. Their contention is that the "maximum amount that can be paid an athlete" should be equal to the expenses of attending the particular school. To the outsider the question of an amateur and professional "differential" may sometime arise. He may be assured, however, that Southwest Conference athletes are strictly amateur.

MOUND ACES BACK ON TOP

FOUR RETURN TO GLORY IN OPENING GAMES OF
MAJOR LEAGUES

New York, April 21. (AP)—Four pitchers, all of whom had more or less fallen from glory in the past two years, were back on top today as the result of yesterday's opening games of the 1937 baseball season.

These four, Darrell Ehljah (Cy) Blanton of Pittsburgh, Hal Schumacher of the New York Giants, Elden Auker of the Detroit Tigers and Monte Weaver of the Washington Senators turned in some of the most sparkling feats of the six-game program which attracted a total of 181,015 cash customers.

Manager Pie Traynor shoved Blanton into the opener against the Chicago Cubs yesterday, and Cy pitched a five-hit shutout, 5 to 0.

Schumacher won 19 and lost 9 two seasons back, but he almost lost his arm out of joint on every pitch and last year had trouble with his right elbow.

Schumacher limited the Dodgers to five hits as the inter-borough rivalry was renewed before 32,387 fans. In addition, he drove in the ninth-inning run that brought the Giants a 4 to 3 victory.

Auker got his comeback chance because both Schoolboy Rowe and Tommy Bridges were ill, limited Cleveland to nine blows and won 4-3 when Gerald Walker thrilled 38,200 customers with a terrific clouting show.

Weaver, a star in 1932, slid clear back to Albany three years later. He returned to the Yankees last year and showed so much improvement he was named to oppose the Yankees before the 45,550 crowd that turned out for New York's opener. He subdued the world champions in all but one inning and came through with a 3-2 decision.

One of the largest crowds in the history of Cincinnati's Crosley field, 34,374, saw Dizzy Dean, touched for 13 hits, blank the Reds for 10 innings and emerge with a 2 to 0 decision over Ray (Peaches) Davis.

The Philadelphia Athletics, who led the American League for one day, came back to normal when three pitchers failed to check the attack of the Boston Red Sox and the Gold-platers won, 11 to 5. The A's, however, came up with the home run leader in Bob Johnson, who hit his second in two days.

CRUDE PRICE INCREASE DUE

SEASONAL DEMAND GAINS AS LABOR DIFFICULTY IS WATCHED

Tulsa, Okla., April 21. (AP)—Leaders of the oil industry who sought to gauge the future were agreed today that prospects for labor difficulties had them concerned but they saw no serious obstacles to a successful season.

The seasonal pickup in demand for motor fuel was becoming more pronounced and the market was strong. There were predictions of gasoline price increases in the immediate future.

Most executives who had not already settled the problem through agreement with labor's representatives felt that organization of their employees either under the A. F. L. or the C. I. O. was inevitable following the Wagner decision.

They were quick to point out, however, that disputes between employer and employee never had created serious difficulties in the industry.

The rank and file of employees questioned here seemed satisfied with present working conditions and hours. Many field men and refinery workers in this area seemed proud of their work and evidenced confidence of fair treatment by their employers.

Oilmen were surprised at the statement of Governor E. W. Marland of Oklahoma that they'd best get the price of crude oil up or face a severance tax. Independent producers who have contended all along crude was selling entirely too cheaply were cheered over his statement.

Many refiners, despite their stand that the price of refined products has not kept pace with costs of production, were forced to agree that an increase in the price of crude oil seemed inevitable in the face of present conditions.

In this connection it was noted that the Oil and Gas Journal's price chart showed the Mid-Continent tank car quotation for motor fuel at six cents a gallon, the same as last year.

DALLAS COMPANY CHARGED IN WAGNER ACT VIOLATION

Dallas, April 21. (AP)—The Dallas Ladies' Garment Workers Union announced Tuesday that charges under the Wagner Labor Relations Act had been filed against the Sheba Ann Dress Company of Dallas before Dr. E. A. Elliott, regional director for the National Labor Relations Board. The union alleged that Jack Ginsberg, owner of the plant, had refused to bargain collectively with the union.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS OF TEXAS TO HEAR JAMES ROOSEVELT

Washington, April 21. (AP)—James Roosevelt, son of the President, has accepted an invitation to address the Young Democratic Clubs of Texas in Houston early in June.

Earle B. Mayfield, Jr., of Tyler, Texas National Committeeman, his brother, John S. Mayfield, member of the Texas unit but a Government employee here, and Neal Pickett of Houston, president of the Harris County organization, extended the invitation.

STRIKING MECHANICS MAY OPEN GARAGE AT HOUSTON

Houston, April 21. (AP)—Several striking union automobile mechanics indicated Tuesday there was a possibility they would "go against" the employers by starting a garage of their own.

The plan was under discussion at strike headquarters. The proposed garage would be operated under the name of the mechanics opening it and the $125 an hour scale, as asked by the mechanics of the dealers, would be paid.

SALT VALUES GET INTEREST

CHEMISTS SHOW NEED OF ADEQUATE SUPPLY TO ASSURE HEALTH

Memphis, Tenn., April 21. (AP)—A winning athlete must have the right amount of salt in his system. This was shown by diet studies reported here today by the American Institute of Nutrition, covering salt losses from the body.

The nutritionists were the advance guard of 1,000 scientists, belonging to the Nutrition Institute of American Societies for Experimental Biology, who open a three day meeting in Memphis tomorrow. These biologists are the pioneers of medicine, who make experiments in the unknown chemical, physical and electrical mysteries of the body.

The salt riddle was explained to the Nutrition Institute by D. B. Dill, Jost Michalsen, and H. T. Edwards of the Harvard University fatigue laboratory. They told of a man who worked four and a half hour shifts in Boston at a temperature of about 104.

He drank enough water to satisfy his thirst. But he lost so much salt in sweat that the salt in his blood dropped 4 per cent and he suffered from "heat cramps." Later the same man walked seven hours in about the same temperature at a western city and lost only one-third as much salt.

Neither the temperature nor the exercise bothered him. The reason, the report stated, was that in Boston his body had not previously been acclimated to the work at high temperature, while in the West he had first acclimated himself.

"It is not generally known," the report declared, "that salt concentration in sweat depends on acclimation, environment and personal idiosyncrasy."

Not only athletes but laborers in heavy industry and fever patients were advised to watch the salt in their diet. Lack of enough to replace salt lost during work or by other causes of profuse sweating is likely to cause illness.

Fishing Season To Offer Ample Supply of Game

Austin, April 21. (AP)—Texas' legions of fly, rod, and bait casting enthusiasts may look forward to bountiful fishing season beginning May 1 if current indications hold true.

Will J. Tucker, executive secretary of the Game, Fish, and Oyster Commission, said more than 4,000,000 young fish from State hatcheries have been placed in fresh water streams and lakes.

He reports also that rainfall was plentiful through the closed season and spawning conditions generally were good in March and April when most fish in open water hatch their young by the millions.

Tucker said bass, crappie, bream, and channel cat were stocked generally throughout the State.

He estimates this year's artificial bait anglers will exceed the 31,000 licensed last year, an all-time record.

Only persons using artificial lures are required to obtain licenses but Tucker estimates the total number of fresh water anglers reached 300,000 last year. Each year has produced an increase in the number of artificial bait fishermen and this season should be no exception, he said.

Rainfall, he said, is an important factor in propagation of fish in Texas where many streams dry up unless precipitation is ample. Without it water often stagnates, destroying fish food and nullifying spawning possibilities.

The past Winter has been generous in rainfall and so far as the Game Department can ascertain spawning has been satisfactory. Cool weather, often an enemy to reproduction, ended early in the spawning period and there were no sharp drops in temperature to destroy fertility of newly produced fish eggs.

Tucker said most stock fish placed in open waters were from three to five inches long and many of these will reach legal size before the season opens. However, in most waters he believes mature fish established in those waters were plentiful and reproduced in abundance.

The State operates nine hatcheries and the Federal Government three in Texas. A fourth Federal hatchery is under construction at Uvalde, home of Vice President John N. Garner, one of Texas' most ardent bass anglers.

DALLAS COUNTY BOOSTS 5-YEAR ROAD PROGRAM

Dallas, April 21. (AP)—Dallas County Tuesday joined Harris and other Texas counties in a fight for a constitutional amendment that would allow them to build local permanent highways on a strictly cash basis.

Dallas County Commissioners Court adopted a resolution in favor of Texas Senate Joint Resolution No. 16, Judge Roy Hofheinz of Harris County, who urged the endorsement, went to Fort Worth to seek similar action by Tarrant County Commissioners. He said he would go to Austin to ask adoption of the resolution in the House of Representatives.

The resolution contemplates a five-year road building program, subject to the action of individual counties, with a special tax, instead of bond issues, to finance definitely-outlined projects.

REFORESTATION MEASURE IS PASSED BY HOUSE

Washington, April 21. (AP)—The State passed Tuesday and sent to the House legislation calling for Federal cooperation in the reforestation of cut-over farm land.

The bill, introduced by Senator Norris, Independent, Nebraska, would authorize a $3,500,000 appropriation for raising seedlings and distributing them to farmers.

Administration would be in the Agriculture Department.

LONGER TERM PROPOSAL IS DEFEATED IN HOUSE

Austin, April 21. (AP)—The House Tuesday defeated another attempt to provide that a proposed constitutional amendment lengthening terms of office from two to four years would not apply to incumbents. The vote was 86 to 51.

The proposed change also would have created four-year terms for State officers. The original amendment applies only to district, county and precinct offices but includes members of the House.

GABLE TELLS LIFE HISTORY

DEFENSE FOR MRS. NORTON ASKS ACQUITTAL AFTER "HONEST MISTAKE"

Los Angeles, April 21. (AP)—A distinct success in his debut, Clark Gable was recalled for an encore in Federal Court today in the trial of Mrs. Violet Wells Norton, American Britisher who once thought him the father of her admittedly illegitimate child, Gwendoline.

Whether she still thinks so, she would not say.

Mrs. Norton, Jack L. Smith, a detective, and Frank Keenan, of Winnipeg, Canada, have been indicted for use of the mails to defraud and for conspiracy. Mrs. Norton wrote letters to Gable informing him his real name was "Frank Billings" and that he was the father of Gwendoline, born in 1923.

Gable took the stand late yesterday. He detailed the places where he lived as a boy and a young man. He itemized his movements from 1922 to 1924, when Mrs. Norton contends she was having the illicit romance with "Frank Billings."

Then he quietly said "no" to some two dozen questions. He was asked if he had ever communicated with Mrs. Norton, or her representatives; if he took her letters seriously; if he ever paid her any money; if he ever had seen Gwendoline. He said "no" to all these queries.

"Are you the father of Gwendoline," asked Assistant United States Attorney John Powell.

"No," said Gable. Before he was called, defense attorneys moved for a directed verdict amounting to acquittal on the ground that no fraud or conspiracy was intended by Mrs. Norton or the two men she allegedly enlisted in her aid.

Her attorney pleaded that she had made an "honest mistake" in confusing Gable with the man she knew as Billings.

The Government argued against this contention and Federal Judge George L. Cosgrave, after hearing the pleadings, announced he would take the question under submission.

DALLAS MAN DIES AFTER RESISTING CITY POLICE

Houston, Texas, April 21. (AP)—Authorities today investigated the death of Elpidio Cortez, struck with a police blackjack last night for resisting arrest.

Patrolmen R. V. Harrelson and A. H. Schomburg gave statements saying Schomburg hit Cortez with a blackjack when Cortez struck at Harrelson. He was being arrested after two disturbance calls sent the officers to his home.

Police said they believed Cortez was injured fatally when he fell from the car which brought him to the police station. His head struck the pavement, they said.

FAIR TRADE ACT IS CONSIDERED. Court Action Not Likely To Prove Successful With- out New Commission.

The lower branch of the Texas Legislature has passed a fair trade practice act, modeled after the Robinson-Patman law enacted by the last Congress. The major features prohibit use of loss leaders and other acts of unfair competition. It is designed to promote fair merchandising methods in the retail trade, somewhat after the order of the Robinson-Patman law regarding practices of jobbers and manufacturers.

Enforcement of the provisions of the law are based on court action by injured parties. In most instances the injured parties would be merchants. Recourse would be for damages and a form of punishment is added by means of fines which might be imposed. Presumably prosecution of the criminal features of the bill would follow action for damages, or at least it might be expected to work that way. In addition relief is provided by injunction.

With the purpose of the bill there is little ground for complaint, but its effectiveness may be doubted so long as enforcement depends upon court action by merchants. The objections to this arrangement are apparent. A complaining merchant invites some risk when he goes to court to prevent a competitor from selling at low prices. At the outset he is handicapped because the average consumer will sympathize with the one offering the lower prices. Another objection is that in obtaining an injunction the complainant would have to make bond to indemnify the defendant in the event he was unable to prove his contentions under the law.

Experience in other fields of regulation show rather conclusively that the only satisfactory means of administering such laws is through a commission specially created for the purpose. As long as regulation of railroads and insurance companies was left to court action nothing was done. It is not likely that anything much will be accomplished with a fair trade law governing retailing until enforcement is placed in the hands of a special commission, and this raises the point of whether we wish to have another governmental agency of that sort.

BRITISH FEAR UNBALANCED BUDGET. Huge Tax Load in England Offers Example of Heavy Government Spending.

The British Parliament has received budget recommendations of the Cabinet and some very interesting figures appear in it when compared with similar matters in this country. It is feared that the budget for the ensuing year will not be in balance, due to heavy increases for increased armament, and an unbalanced budget is something British look upon as serious.

However, the reported amount of excess of expenditures over receipts is equivalent to about $30,000,000. In this country an item of that size in the national budget would be ignored as of no consequence. We unbalance our budgets by hundreds of millions and even billions and say everything is all right. But not so with the simple-minded British. They have been dealing with national budgets for nearly 900 years and know something about the subject.

Of chief interest to Americans, though, are some of the tax rates. Every Britisher pays an income tax of approximately 25 per cent, and it applies on the low incomes. Higher incomes pay heavier rates. Gasoline is taxed 16 cents a gallon, and license on a small automobile is about $125 a year. There are few exemptions in the British income tax laws. The family exemptions are small, almost negligible, as compared with exemptions in the United States.

During the coming year about 47,000,000 Britishers will pay four and a quarter billion dollars in taxes. Last year the United States with an estimated population of 130,000,000 collected a little less than four billions in all kinds of taxes, including import duties.

Compared with the people of other nations we don't know anything about paying taxes, but if we keep on spending as we have in the past few years our education is due to begin right soon.

FEDERAL BUREAUCRACY EXPANDING. Improvement in State Governments Needed To Halt Growing Tendency.

The steady extension of Federal bureaucracy is alarming to many people. But instead of decrying this expansion, attention should be directed to state capitals in any move to end it. Federal control will continue to grow until state governments are made efficient and responsive to the needs of the public.

Much of the demand for a stronger Federal Government may be traced to the fact that people no longer trust their state governments as they once did. A successful effort to make state governments capable of taking over some of the work would win approval of the national government.

Too frequently a suggestion that a problem be handled by a state instead of in Washington means it will not be handled at all. There are many things which state governments can do, but which they appear unable to do well.

An example was noted in the news the other day when a speaker pointed out that in too many instances old age pensions systems have become cogs in state political machines. Lack of a uniform system has resulted in handling of pensions as an acknowledged branch of political patronage.

Great progress has been made toward honesty and efficiency by the Federal Government and efforts to achieve equal progress in state affairs must be made if the growing tendency to ask Washington to do things which ought to be done at state capitals is to be halted.

"AFRAID TO LOVE" PRESENTS STORY OF A GIRL COMPELLED TO TURN DOWN MAN SHE LOVES

By MARION WHITE
NEA Service Staff Writer

CHAPTER I

The annual Spring Frolic at the Green Hills Inn was in progress. Every person—young or old—who was of any social value in Green Hills was at the Inn, the men trim and debonair in spotless tails and tux, the women glamorous and luxurious in gleaming velvets and glittering metal cloths.

For Green Hills was one of the smallest suburbs within the metropolitan New York area, and the first Spring dance at the Inn was unquestionably the gala event of the season.

By eleven-thirty the party was in full swing, and the stag line, fortified by just the proper number of Scotch and sodas, was performing in splendid form. The women of Green Hills were proud of them. Perhaps a little later there would be those who might weaken—some to seek rest for weary feet in the smoking room downstairs, some to fall into the gentle unconsciousness which one too many Scotch induces. But as yet the evening was unspoiled.

Hal Stewart's orchestra, imported from a three weeks' engagement on Broadway, swung into the lively strains of "A Fine Romance." The older women took heart; they preferred these faster tunes. The quick rhythm stirred their blood; it proved that they could step around just as lively as the 18-year-old girls, despite grown children at home.

Millie Sanders, frisking by in the arms of Jerry Johnson, glanced over her shoulder at Jerry's wife, Laura.

"Who's that lovely blond with Bob Andrews?" she asked Laura excitedly, slowing Jerry down so that she might catch the answer.

"Mr. Hendry's secretary, I'm told," Laura replied. "I've never seen her before."

"Isn't she lovely? Jerry, don't you think she's lovely? Look, that blond girl dancing with Bob..."

Jerry looked. He saw a slim, gold-haired girl, and even to his untrained masculine eye it seemed fitting that she should be dressed in rich black velvet, unadorned save for the gardenias at her shoulder. Her eyes were bright, clear blue, and the depth of their color contrasted vividly with the fairness of her skin.

She looked to Jerry like a girl who had just stepped out of some rare old painting, too delicate for this mad whirl of dancing.

"She's a beauty, all right," he assured Millie enthusiastically. "And much as I hate to break your faithful old heart, Millie, I think I'll park you over here by the palms and cut in on her myself."

Millie laughed good-naturedly. "You're not the only one thinking that. Every eye on the stag line is following her, but Bob keeps out of the way. You haven't a chance, Jerry. Better be contented with me for a while."

Millie was right. Every time Bob Andrews approached the south end of the room, where the men were gathered, a dozen pair of eyes tried to catch his, a dozen hands started upward to attract his attention. But each time, he adroitly changed his course.

After his tenth failure to cut in, Jimmy MacArthur looked disgusted. "What's the matter with Andrews tonight?" he asked Philip Hendry, standing alongside of him. "Is he afraid he'll eat her?"

Philip shrugged carelessly. "It's plain to see," he remarked, with a touch of superiority, "that he begrudges you the lady's company."

"Can't say I blame him, Jimmy admitted. "Who is she, Phil?"

"My uncle's secretary, Joan Barrett."

"Joan Barrett, eh? Does she live here in Green Hills?"

"No, in town." He smiled provokingly. "And you won't find her listed in the phone book."

Philip edged away from the group, a little amused at this excitement. Miss Barrett was causing. For his own part he cared little for girls of the fragile build type. Give him a warm red-head any day, or a dashing black-eyed Susan like his sister Sybil. . . . Where was Sybil tonight anyway? She'd give him the devil if he didn't put in an appearance. His eyes strayed over the other couples on the floor.

Presently he saw her coming toward him, dancing with Jim Neil. Philip smiled approvingly as he watched her. His sister, he told himself, was certainly the finest looking woman in Green Hills. Tonight.

WILL OF SLAIN WOMAN ADMITTED TO PROBATE

Dallas, April 21. (AP)—County Probate Judge Ben H. Fly Tuesday ordered the will of the late Mrs. Mary S. Knox admitted to probate, denying a contest brought by the slain woman's grandchildren. Mrs. Knox, 81, widow of a wealthy lumberman, was beaten to death here March 12.

Two grandsons, Hiram Knox and William Hiram Knox III, attacked the will on the grounds she was not mentally competent when the instrument was drawn Jan. 28, 1936.

The will bequeathed $5 each to the two contestants and four other grandchildren. The remainder of the estate, valued at $75,000 for probate taxes, was to be divided between City Temple Presbyterian Church and the Reynolds Presbyterian Orphanage.

Facilities for Employment Aid Are Discussed

Editor's note: This is the fifth of a series of articles prepared by the Vernon Chamber of Commerce Employment Committee to acquaint workers and employers with facilities provided to serve them by the Texas State Employment Service. Benefits the employee and employer might expect to receive through the service, and how the service operates and by whom it is operated will be explained.

How can the Employment Service help me find a job?

The employment office will contact many more employers, possibly, than you will; and if its information is correct and complete, it may be able to refer you to an employer you don't know for a job you didn't know existed.

How do I register at the employment office?

Call at the office between 8 a. m. and noon, and explain that you wish to register for employment. An application card will be filled out and filed for you.

After I register, how soon do I get a job?

Perhaps soon, perhaps never. The employment service cannot create jobs; it only selects and refers for employment in the available jobs persons qualified to do the required work. You can see, then, that it is a matter of matching your qualifications with the requirements of a job opening.

After I register, how long will the employment service try to find a job for me?

As long as you are available for employment. If, however, you don't call at the office about once a month, it will be assumed that you have yourself found a job, and applicants who are known to be available will be considered for openings.

I have been registered three years now and never had a call. Why not?

Perhaps there has been no opening with requirements to match your abilities; or maybe there has been such an opening but at the time your card was inactive because you had not called at the office for some time, and it was presumed that you were working.

Who at the employment office does the hiring?

No one. Every employer does his own hiring and the office is not an employer—it only refers, suggests or sends qualified applicants to the employer and he makes his own selection. He does his own hiring.

Fish Story.
Seattle, April 21. (AP)—Charles Creamer explained to Justice Guy B. Kneit that he was "practicing casting" off a small dock when arrested for fishing in closed season. "What would you have done if you'd hooked a five-pound bass on that 'plug' you were practicing with?" His Honor asked. "I'd have thrown it back," said Creamer. "Ten dollars fine," said the judge. "Next case."

TRAILER ADVENTURE

CHAPTER XXV
Oddly Betty looked at Martha. True, Mart had smiled as she asked, "Isn't three a crowd?" But it had been a peculiar, an almost bitter smile. As if—but Martha couldn't be jealous.

"You must come, really," put in Betty quickly. "Tomorrow—the dinner dance at the Olympic."
"A dinner dance," repeated Betty excitedly. "Martha, doesn't it seem ages since you've danced?"
Yes, Martha Brittain thought, it did seem ages. Ages since she'd danced that night at Del Monte with Gerry Neal. And yet she remembered it so clearly, so poignantly. Would she, Martha wondered, ever forget it? Must she go on, now and then, remembering? Must she think of Gerry Neal whenever someone mentioned certain magic words like "dance" and "moonlight" and "love"? Must she think of him at the sound of such words, and then be struck coldly, as she was now, with the thought that he was a criminal of the lowest order? That against the soul of the only man she had ever loved was laid murder, and countless other crimes?

Must she thus always be alternately exalted and degraded by the memory of love, or would time erase Gerry Neal from her mind?
The evening of the next day found Betty Haynes admiring herself in the tall door-mirror of their hotel room. She wore a white sheath of evening gown, and her maize-colored hair was perfect.

"I ought to be," she replied in answer to Martha's compliment to that effect. "I told the hairdresser 'I'm going to stay in here two hours, so give me the works!' She turned from the glass. 'You'd better start getting ready, Mart. The coast guard will be here any moment now.'"

"I really don't feel like going," Martha said, rising listlessly from theavenport.
"Nonsense! I'll do you good. I've hung your dress in the closet, and wasn't it nice of that Mr. Weeks to have our belongings ready at the hotel? There T-men seem to think of everything."

"But where'd they find the trailer?"
"Mr. Howson says they picked it up in front of the abandoned warehouse dock where Speddon left it when he took you to the waterfront. It was moved to the Federal building's garage, but Mr. Weeks had our baggage taken out and sent to the hotel. And then—"

Betty stopped, observing Martha closely. "Look here, Mart! What on earth is wrong with you? Here we are out of a rotten mess. Here we are all spick and span, and with the perfectly good Haynes money Dad wired. Here we are ready to live again—and you mope!"
"I'm not moping," Martha insisted. "I'm just—sort of tired."
"Well, you can rest at the Olympic as well as here. The music will do you a lot of good."

With Betty's hurried help, Martha was ready by the time they were notified that the young coast guard officer was in the lobby.
"Well!" he said admiringly. "I knew you girls were attractive—but I wasn't prepared for this!"
"I'll have to admit," Betty laughed, "that we must present an improvement over our appearance when your boat joined Mr. Ciznik's!"

Howson ushered them to the waiting cab. "I saw Guy Weeks this morning. I hate to tell you this—but he says you girls can go home tomorrow, if you want. They'll take your statements for the files on the case, and then you won't have to wait."
"Tomorrow?" Betty said, and there was a genuine reluctance in her voice. She turned to Martha. "I'd like to stay a few days and look around Seattle, wouldn't you?"

Betty's desire for delay was so obvious that Martha had to smile. "We'd better not stay too long. Remember that those news stories got back home, and our families will be expecting anything to happen to us now."
"Even to marrying a coast guard man?" said Howson. Though his tone was facetious his glance at Betty Haynes gave his words a balance of gravity. Suddenly realizing his implied favoritism, he turned to Martha. "By the way, Weeks said he might be able to join us later at the Olympic. I'm sure you'd both like him. He's an interesting fellow."

by Nard Jones
© 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

Martha failed to reflect his enthusiasm. Indeed, she was more than pleased when they reached the Olympic, and Betty and the officer excused themselves to dance. Safe from Betty's anxious scrutiny, she felt less nervous. She knew that Betty realized something had happened to her during the time they were parted. And eventually she must confide to her friend—but not now. It was all too close and too painful now.

Grateful that the table lamp was amber and dimly shaded, she watched the dancers, picked out Howson and Betty from among them. Plainly, they were falling really in love with one another. It had been apparent from that moment in the coast guard cutter's stateroom.

Martha looked up to see the head waiter standing by her chair. "Pardon me . . . were you expecting a Mr. Weeks at this table?"
"Why, yes. Ask him to—"

She stopped. Beyond the waiter was a handsome and smiling Gerry Neal, impeccable in dinner clothes. Martha paled. Then, grabbing up her wrap and bag, she started to rise.

He stepped forward quickly. "Please, Martha . . . I'm really Guy Weeks. I don't know whether you'll like it as well as the other name—but there it is."

With a gasp, she sank back into her chair. "But I . . ." Martha began weakly, and failed.

"You see, I couldn't tell you at first because I—well, there in San Diego I wasn't sure but what you and Betty were innocent victims. I couldn't take the chance of letting my identity be known. Things were getting too hot. They were coming to a boil fast, and I didn't want the slightest slip-up. That's why I didn't tell you even when you had me juggled there at Eureka."

He stopped, looking hungrily into Martha's joyful eyes. "I hope you'll forgive me for all the deception—for keeping you guessing so long. Even there on the coast guard boat I didn't have a chance to explain—and then I returned to Seattle on the Ciznik vessel."

"E—forgive you?" repeated Martha happily. "Why, I—"

His hand slipped over the white cloth, took Martha's firmly. "Could you talk better if we danced?"
"Y—yes."
But, curiously, they did not talk at all. They slipped into each other's arms, tenderly, silently, fused by the magic rhythm of a tune they'd danced to that night in Del Monte.

The End.

GLACIER PARK SCENES REVIEWED BY EXPLORER

It's a fancy job of carving—the cutting, scraping and grinding done thousands of years ago by rivers of ice from 2,000 to 3,000 feet thick in the region now known as Glacier National Park.

A famous world explorer's impressions of the spectacular sights created by these huge hunks of ice will be described in the Continental Oil Company broadcast, "Exploring America with Conoco and Carverth Wells," which may be heard at 6:30 o'clock Saturday night over radio station WFAA, Dallas.

"Glacier National Park is a place where you can see the last remnants of the great sheet of ice that once covered the northern part of the world," says Wells, referring to the park's ninety glaciers. "There is nothing in the Alps of Europe or the Andes of South America that surpasses or, in the opinion of some world travelers, even equals the scenery of this remarkable region." Scenic spots to be discussed by Wells are Glacier Park Village, Going-to-the-Sun Highway, Two Medicine Lake, Red Eagle Valley, and Triple Divide Pass—the lofty peak from which water runs in three directions into the Atlantic, Pacific and Arctic oceans.

Interruptions Fail To Halt Senate Speech

Austin, April 21. (AP)—The Texas Senate, recently commended for its dignified conduct, the other day indulged in a bit of levity which had the galleries rocking with laughter. Senator Joe Hill of Henderson was making an earnest appeal to kill a measure under consideration.

Other members, knowing it would pass overwhelmingly in spite of Hill's vigorous opposition, hoped he would finish quickly to permit a vote.

The Senator from Rusk, however, continued his oration and it appeared he might go on indefinitely. Finally, Senator Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth casually walked over to Hill and offered him a cigar.

Without losing a stride, Hill accepted, thanked Rawlings and continued his speech.

His first obvious hint having failed, Rawlings again meandered in front of Hill and offered him a cigarette which he accepted. Rawlings then lighted it for him. Hill took a few puffs, thanked him and talked on hardly pausing.

By this time, since the thing was so casually done, everyone was laughing. Hill smiled but continued his speech.

The third interruption occurred when another member furnished Rawlings a stick of gum which he promptly offered Hill. Again he was thanked, Hill unwrapped the gum and started chewing it, never dropping a syllable.

Uproarious laughter greeted this final effort and Rawlings gave up. Hill talked half an hour longer against the proposal which passed by a large majority.

PUERTO RICO PLANS EXHIBIT AT DALLAS

Dallas, April 21.—Puerto Rico will send both official and commercial exhibits to the Pan American Exposition in Dallas this Summer, stamping the island's name before vacationing Americans. International fair officials were assured this week.

Charles H. Abbott, who has just completed a flying tour of Central and South American capitals bearing invitations to the Exposition, was dispatched from Havana, Cuba, to San Juan, to work out details with industrial leaders anxious to publicize the products of the island, among which are sugar cane and rum. Space of 8,000 square feet already has been reserved by Southern Feeds, whose agents cabled reservation of exhibit space.

Four transportation lines serving trade channels between North and South America, one by air and three by sea, added their names to the list of contracted exhibitors this week, asking for a space of 10,000 square feet.

HITLER THOUGHT FAVORABLE TO HALTING REARMAMENT

Berlin, April 21. (AP)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler, hailed on his forty-eighth birthday by the massed might of the German Army he recreated, was believed Tuesday to be ready to join in calling a halt to the crushing world rearmament race.

Foreign observers considered the German Army finally had reached a strength satisfactory to Der Fuehrer, as demonstrated Tuesday by the greatest military review ever staged in the German Capital.

They drew their conclusions from two things:

Hitler's statement that "Germany would be willing to partake of a united effort to establish mutual understanding between the nations of the world" through a conference called by President Roosevelt or the head of some other world power.

The declaration of Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, Economics Minister, that "rearmament forced the Government to withdraw certain raw materials from consumption but raw material restriction has now passed its highest peak."

INCREASE IN USE OF HELIUM GAS IS URGED

Washington, April 21. (AP)—Dr. Alvin L. Barach of Columbia University, New York, told the House military committee Tuesday he had had to watch several patients die because of inability to obtain helium for their treatment.

He urged the committee to approve a bill to let the Government sell the gas at cost for medical use. The Government owns the world's largest helium supply in Texas. Under the bill, it would have the right to repurchase helium sold for medical purposes and a Government committee would supervise the transactions.

Barach, a pioneer in applying helium to treatment of disease, said several cases of asthma which threatened to be fatal had been so improved by helium the patients were able to work.

Dr. R. R. Sayre of the Federal Public Health Service explained helium was useful in treating tuberculosis and helping babies whose lungs fail to expand normally at birth. Helium now is very expensive to private purchasers.
